Boston Sunday Night

Dear Lucie -

I hasten at the close of a Sabbath day's work such as I have rarely accomplished to put you to the expense of 6¢ cents that I may explain something - when I wrote to Ann this forenoon I was in great haste - & believe I absolutely forgot you - & it was not till we began to exchange the beds that I remembered - as we began to fix a place for you that I had seen nothing about you - & when Sarah & I suppose you would come also the same - but the precise time said - perhaps I had better write & make sure - the Skates put - Gow & Com in garret - large box - Deborn in Cot - & the others in large box below - so if you bring - bed clothes & shall be taken care of, & returned &c, can be accommodated — Ed Dobson can fix as when they come —

I shall send by Stage in the afternoon a letter giving an account of Bishop's actions & Sunday other matters — He B— acts no better — Mr Adams was here the other afternoon to stay trying to persuade him to stay & not start home place or Salary shall better be some for B. to seek him state — This cannot be — to be with you on the most ea the difficulty he can —

He is now I am sorry for Dobson Who is to go next? — — Mrs Davis is dead — & Mary goes to Providence the Monday Jenny wrote a good letter about the B affair & sent the B's letters to him — but is not quite known how much trouble B can & will make —

how that a good meeting yesterday afternoon — ask in your Prayers —

Love to all — We should send for Aunt Mary — but suppose she will prefer to work on as is. with Anna Eliz Mrs Jones & if she can, stay after it — but if she thinks opportunity let Anna come me & us — can find work now —

Will Rev Mr Keiller kindly how often is about the Sick probably stay to do — Father is easy — & let such people do what they can — in haste
